

Lacombe Fair Financial Statement Shows Deficit For This Year

Unfavorable Weather Conditions During Fair Reflected in Loss of Receipts; Officers For Coming Year Elected

The deficit of the Lacombe Agricultural Society Fair, held last July, was $337, it was disclosed at the annual general meeting of the Board of Directors of that body, held in the office of Secretary D. F. Chisholm last Saturday night, when the financial statement was presented. President T. Wilks expressed the disappointment that a deficit was shown, but explained that no one had caused the elements, and this year rain at an inopportune time caused the postponement on the first date selected, and a bad rain and windstorm broke in on the second date, which adversely affected the attendance. Had the Town Council and the M.D. of Crown grants been the same as last year, the deficit would have been absorbed, as both these bodies cut their grant from $300 to $100 for this year and the deficit has seriously depleted the balance on hand, which now stands at $588.

To Charge Same Rates

It was reported the seed cleaning machine was continuing to perform a real service to farmers in the district, and the secretary was instructed to operate the machine this season at the same rates as last year. This equipment is operated at cost and not intended for a profit-making device, only depreciation and repair being taken into account. It was pointed out that the donation of $25 made to the Lacombe Calf Club by the society was much appreciated.

New Officers

Election of officers resulted as follows:

Hospitalization Rates at New Hospital Set by Board Thursday Night

Showing a desire to provide hospitalization at cost, the Hospital Board of the new Lacombe and District Community Hospital set the rates for the new hospital at their regular meeting held last Thursday night in the Town Office.

The public ward, including day will be $2.00, as compared with $2.50 now being charged in the old hospital. Complete rates are as follows:

Public Ward per day.....$2.00
Semi-private ward, per day. 3.00
Private ward, per day. 3.50
Maternity cases, public ward, ten days, including case room (if paid in advance) 23.00
Maternity cases, ten days, private ward, including case room (if paid in advance) 38.00
Operating room (major operation) 7.50
Case room 5.00
These rates are set for residents, and rates for non-residents will be slightly higher.

Equipment Ordered
Purchasing of new equipment took a great deal of time of the Board. Two complete ward ward furniture outfits, consisting of the latest and most comfortable furniture obtainable, were ordered, along with additional furniture for other wards, the total cost adding up to $899.

This Week's Thought
Voluntarily to follow what is good is the beginning of understanding it.

Vegetables for Dried Out Districts Received

Ways and means of raising money for the coming year were discussed, but nothing definite was decided.

The executive for the year was elected as follows: Honorary president, Bob MacKenzie; president, Bob Lewis; vice-president, Dick Scholten; secretary-treasurer, "Pepper" Martin; executive committee, Sim Kangerer, Jimmy Shaw and Ted Brink.

1234 Entries Received At Lacombe School Fair Held Here Wednesday

Central School Wins Parade Prize; Sports Run Off at Exhibition Grounds; Entries On Display in Pavilion

A total of 1234 entries were received at the Lacombe School Fair held yesterday (Wednesday) at the Exhibition Grounds here. Nine schools of this district took part in the Fair, and exhibits were considered by the judges to be of an exceptionally high quality.

Those schools competing in the various classes were: Spring Valley, Spruceville, Central, Sunny Crest, Canyon, Eureka Valley, Lakeside, Mountain Grove and Ardmore.

Exhibits of manual training, school work, cooking, vegetables, sewing, etc., were attractively arranged in the Central Alberta Pavilion. Row after row of shining vegetables, splendid exhibits of manual training and good cooking made the job of judging a difficult one. Sports were run off on the track at the Exhibition Grounds and created great interest among the students themselves. Ideal weather helped to make the event a success.

Possibility of Night Classes At Local School

There is a possibility that night classes for typing and stenography for those unable to take advantage of the day-time classes will be held at the local school this winter.

The Lacombe School Board has been approached regarding this matter, and those interested are asked to send in their applications to J. Fraser, secretary.

The matter will then be discussed by the board and determined.

Lieutenant-Governor Refers Three SoCred Bills to Dominion Government

One exciting situation following another has kept the capital in the throes of excitement during the past few days, culminating in His Honor C. Bowen, Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, reserving assent to three bills which passed through the Provincial Legislature and given third reading on Monday night. The House prorogued at 4:30 on Tuesday afternoon.

It was the first time in the history of Alberta that a Lieutenant-Governor reserved assent to legislation passed through the Legislature. The bills "reserved" were: The Bank Taxation bill, the Bank Licensing or regulation of Social Credit bill, and the Accurate News and Information Act, which failed to meet with the Lieutenant-Governor's approval, and His Honor reserved these bills "for the consideration of His Excellency the Governor-General's pleasure," a power vested in the Governor-General through the B.N.A. Act. Whether this action will precipitate an election is a matter of speculation and remains in the lap of the Gods.

Powell and Unwin Arrested
None the less exciting was the arrest of J. H. Unwin, M.L.A. for Edson and Government whip, and G. F. Powell, Major Douglas's credit advisor to the Provincial Government, for alleged connection with the libel case instituted, on charges made by Major-General Iron, W. A. Grieg, K.C., who swore out the information. The libel case arose out of a pamphlet printed and circulated entitled "Bankers' Toodles."

Hearing a warrant was issued for his arrest, Mr. Powell submitted himself at the magistrate's office on Tuesday night. An undisclosed number of copies of the pamphlets were confiscated by detectives on Saturday last, from a secret hideout of the Social Credit offices in the McLeod Building, Edmonton.

Mr. Unwin was arrested at his home in Edmonton on Tuesday morning. The pamphlets referred to are copies of those found on the desks of the opposition members in the Legislature recently, which were used by D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, to demand that a House committee investigate them, but the demand was rejected by a majority vote of the House.

Mr. Unwin and Mr. Powell are both out on bail.

By T. B. WINDROSS
EDMONTON—Alberta this week is speeding to its crisis, with peace, order and good government in the balance and the future of this province and the welfare of the people at stake.

The crisis and the climax induced by the machinations of the Alberta government and the so-called "Social Credit" ideas of the Douglas-Powell-Alberta triumvirate of dictatorship are near at hand.

The session itself made it evident to neutral observers that the one great desire of William Aberhart is to stay in power, personally. Throwing his personal and official dignity to the winds, he and his Social Credit caucus decided to repeal absolutely the Beckett Act for just one reason—to save the Premier from being repudiated and ousted from the Legislature by his own constituents.

There was little effort at pretence; there were claims, of course, that it was being done for the public good and that the repeal (Continued On Page Four)

A Commendable Effort

THE Board of Trade of Lacombe and District and the residents of the Bentley district are to be commended on their actions in sponsoring a move to collect vegetables in and around their respective districts, to be shipped to the drought-stricken areas. Reports from some points in the south are depicting the extreme, telling as they do of lack of vegetation, complete crop failure and deficiency of pasture for any kind of livestock.

We who live in this district should deem ourselves fortunate that we are blessed with such a bountiful supply of products which this year, because of drought, certain districts have lost. To co-operate in gathering a carload of vegetables to be sent to these districts to alleviate suffering among our fellow men, women and children is a noble and worthy effort.

Reports from Bentley state that the business men and farmers in that town and district have worked jointly in gathering and shipping a truckload of vegetables to the south, and that contributions are already being received for a second truckload.

Let us all co-operate with the Board of Trade of Lacombe and District and bring in garden produce for shipment. With everybody doing their share, the burden to any single person is small, and the happiness to be derived from such a gesture will more than repay you.

Liberty Signed Away

(From the Vancouver Province)

FIFTY members of the Alberta Legislature are reported to have signed a pledge to the effect that they will give unquestioned allegiance to the Social Credit Board and its experts. By this act, it would appear, the devoted fifty have surrendered their functions as legislators. Henceforward they are Yes-men, bondmen, slaves of an idea, rubber stamps. They will not legislate. They will merely speak and vote. A robot with a gramophone in its throat and a marked ballot in its hand would serve the purpose as well as any one of them.

The system employed in Alberta may be effective for getting things done. So is the system of dictators. But, like the system of the dictators, the Alberta plan is the negation of representative government.

When a citizen of a Canadian province votes for a man to represent him in the Legislature, he votes for someone who will go to the Legislature in his place and do the things he would have done were it possible for him to go there himself. In the days of the old Saxon courts or councils, each freeman was his own representative. He attended in person, speaking his mind and shouting his "Yes" or "Nay." It was the same in the old Greek city states. It was the same, in much later times, in the town meetings of the American colonies. The modern legislatures, in which representatives sit, are a development of the old councils in which the citizen took a personal part in government. The citizen never dreamed of tying himself up by a pledge of allegiance to any board or person or idea. He was a freeman, and he prized his liberty of action much too highly to sign it away.

The representative in a Legislature, if he is to be an effective and useful representative, must also maintain his freedom of action. He may have promised things before he was elected and is right to respect his promise. He may regard himself as under a mandate. But promise and mandate will be in general terms. They will not govern the details of the representative's conduct, and they will condition but a small part of his activities.

Numerous and various questions must arise in any Legislature on which the representative has not made any promises. He should be in a position to deal with these questions on their merits. The people who elect him expect him to do that. Indeed, that is the sole reason for electing him. If, for any reason, a representative diverts himself of his freedom of action, his usefulness to those who chose him is gone.

Do You Remember

ONE YEAR AGO—OCTOBER, 1936

The price of milk in the town was raised from nine cents to ten cents a quart. No change was made in the price of cream.

30 YEARS AGO—OCTOBER, 1907

A petition from the ratepayers requesting a drain on Barnett Ave. was received by the Town Council. A motion to the effect "that this Council do hereby grant the request of the said petitioners in whole" was passed, and notice of by-law "to provide for the construction of a drain on Barnett Ave." was given by Councillor F. Vickerson.

A by-law for the raising of $6500 by temporary loan until such time as the sale of the skating and curling rink debentures, was passed.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

The trend of events during the past few weeks confirms a feeling that has been growing in me for a long time, and it is just this—that Alberta's future lies in the hands of her women. That is a bold and far-reaching statement to make, but I repeat it in all sincerity—the future of Alberta does rest with the law-makers in Edmonton, not yet with those in Ottawa, but right with each home-maker.

As I see it, this comparatively new province need "roots"; by that I mean something stable, a background, a feeling of permanence, a desire to hand on something worthwhile to unborn generations. And this can only be done by the home-makers of this province.

Too many people have looked on Alberta, in the past, as a get-rich quick proposition. Vast acreages were farmed in the South by persons who had no desire to make HOMES, but who looked on Alberta as a limitless mine for the never-ending production of wheat.

If an individual farmer were successful, he might winter in California, go to Vancouver or even move into his nearest town for the winter. What is the result of all this?—It is that until comparatively recent years, no real homes were made in this province. Shacks that could keep out the weather were good enough for the accommodation, as they represented the hope of release in future years, and had to be pumped! There are comparatively few well-built houses on the farms of this province that are 20 years old.

Surely this restless, transient attitude has not been conducive to sane growth, or to sane thinking. With the advent of more women, community life started to grow, small parties took to better housing. And now, the scene is changing rapidly. Houses, beautiful homes are being built by farmers. The lean years have forced farmers to stay in on spot, and their restlessness has found expression in beautifying their surroundings.

Now, that is not enough. We farm women have put souls in these buildings, and create homes for our men and our children to give them that sense of permanence and peace that only a real home, in the finest sense of the word, can give; to inculcate in our children the true community spirit, that they will dedicate themselves and their energies to being of service to their special district; to be able to form lasting friendships, free from the thought that they will be broken through the return of their parents to their native environment, which would be but "foreign land" to the children.

The older nations have their age-old traditions, a solid background of ideas. We Albertans have to form these, and it is a very difficult problem with which we are faced. The population in Alberta (as in all Canada) comprises many nationalities, all bringing their different ideas and cultures as their contribution to Canada. And so this question arises, "What about Canadian culture?" What has Canada contributed to the world as a nation? There are many individual Canadians who have made, and are making, outstanding contributions to the world in various lands, not as Canadians, but as citizens of their adopted land. Wrapped up in this problem is the burning question, of immigration, and I earnestly advise all farm women to study this question deeply, as it has and will have a very far-reaching effect on their children, and their children's children. Anyone interested in these questions should read two recent articles, "Decline of the Anglo-Saxon Canadian" and "I discover Canada," both in the September first edition of "Maclean's."

Let me leave this thought with you, that it is up to the women who will have a sane Alberta, an Alberta with its roots so deep in the soil that cheap and flashy thinking may sway its outlying branches, but shall not penetrate the bark and harm the life within.

More of this anon, but let us finish on a lighter note.

Last week, replenishing the wardrobe was mentioned, and during the last few days some extraordinary sketches came into my hands—the very latest from Paris. One was a felt hat shaped like a high-heeled shoe, with the sole (quite aptly) of glass applied on an evening gown, giving the wearer an appearance of being in the embrace of a pair of arms (but why ladies' gloves)? It made the age-old thought pass through my mind—for whom do women dress?

I think some dress to please the men they love, some dress to catch the men from whom they desire love; some will dress, however, just to "keep up with the Joneses." But alas, my sisters, the majority dress to please Dame Fashion, with a sheeplike faith in that fickle lady, and with a fine disregard for suitability. Otherwise, who could explain the ghastly orgy of knee-unveiling that took place in the era of short skirts? (I hear this is to be repeated in the near future). Few, very few, women dress to please themselves. More's the pity, but alas, there are Joneses in every woman's life.

LAUGH AND THE WORLD LAUGHS WITH YOU . . .

The barefoot young man stood before the grizzled mountaineer.

"Mistuh Burbridge," he stammered, "I've—'I can't allow to ask yer fer yer daughter's hand."

"Come! allow no such thing," drawled the mountaineer. "Ither yer takes the whole gal, or nothin'!"

We are told that certain musical notes prevent sleep. So also do certain promissory notes.

Probably those Arabs who changed their camels for autos thought "25 miles to the gallon" meant water, not gasoline.

Editor, Western Globe:

Dear Sir,—I notice that all newboys under the age of 12 have been stopped from selling papers on the street. While I admit there are far too many boys running around the streets at night, I do think that boys who are really trying to sell papers and pay for their school books, etc., should be allowed to continue as newboys.

I know of one or two boys who are a great help to their parents by their efforts, buying their school books, clothes, etc., and I think we should encourage rather than retard that trait in these boys. I suggest that a license would remedy this and would curtail the number of boys. I think it is a shame that these boys cannot carry on. It is the boy who gets one or two papers, with only the thought of buying candy, who is the nuisance on the streets and in the stores.

On behalf of the retail newsboys, I hope that they will be allowed to exercise their idea of being thrifty.

Yours truly,
G. EDGINTON.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, "Crop Testing Plan"

The world's millers are now paying a price for the top grades of Canadian wheat that is unusually high when compared with the prices they are offering for other sorts.

Why should this be, when wheats are arriving daily from Australia, Argentina, Roumania, Russia, India, the United States and other countries?

The reason, it appears, is as follows:—The wheats arriving in Europe from Canada's competitors are not, as yet, up to their usual fair quality. Millers, therefore, find it necessary to use a small percentage of high-grade "Manitobas" to bring their flour "made" up to average quality.

But Canada has only a small quantity of these high grades available, hence millers are bidding keenly for them.

Canada will have, I calculate, about 90 million bushels for export, but 21 million of this is Durum and 19 million Garbel, leaving something less than 50 million only of our best grades for overseas sale, or less than a million bushels a week.

How long will the high prices for "Manitobas" last? It depends mainly upon whether the quality of the wheats from Canada's competitors improves, or whether millers find a way to make good flour with the lower quality sorts.

Following factors have tended to raise prices.—Innir will import Roumanian wheat; Continued wet weather hinders Italian corn gathering and wheat sowing; Belgium has obtained poor wheat crop; "Carry over" stock in European importing countries greatly diminished; Drought is affecting South African wheat crop; Austria negotiating for Russian wheat and rye.

Following factors have tended to lower prices.—Expect Italy will soon order corn meal to be mixed with bread flour; Lack of available ocean tonnage; European importing countries may import 40 million less than in 1936-37; General improvement after rain in Argentina; Canadian farmers favor large Danubian wheat acreage; record export citrus fruit from Palestine; Limited gold supplies in importing countries.

UTILIZING SPACE

If you need extra room in the bathroom and have a small space which may be utilized, you can build a cabinet which is divided in three sections. A Home Improvement Plan, modernization loan, obtainable from any Canadian bank, may be used for this purpose.

The centre section, which is backed with a mirror, has a ledge that may be used as a dressing table. Side cabinets have glass shelves on which bath bottles, talcum and other accessories may be set out. Below the shelves are drawers for linen supplies.

Indirect lighting from the back of the cabinet will eliminate annoying shadows on the mirror.

Gull Lake

(From Our Own Correspondent)

GULL LAKE.—Mrs. Ida Cox of Vancouy, Sask., is a business visitor in the district and a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Moore.

Miss Pauline Moore is recovering from a tonsil operation. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Albers and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Albers of Ponoka were guests at the home of A. Eklund recently.

Miss Mary Eklund is spending month with her sister, Mrs. Julius Albers.

Miss Agnes Eklund is visiting her grandfather, A. Eklund, at Sydney, Vancouver Island.

Leave for Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cabelka and the former's sister, Mrs. Hill, and daughter Mabel; Mrs. Emma Hill, and daughter Mabel, with Mrs. Emma Herald, visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cabelka, left on Thursday for their home in Lawton, Oklahoma. On Sunday, Sept. 26th, the Cabelkas and Hansen families held a reunion party and many a trip to Lacombe to visit the Experimental Farm.

There was excitement in the district when L. Cabelka raided a hollow tree on his place that netted him two pairs of honey. Report has it that he took a few bees home as well.

Mrs. L. Cabelka is home, much improved in health.

Marjorie Gibson is laid up with blood poisoning in one foot.

The sympathy of the district is extended to the family of Geo. Moore in their recent bereavement.

There are 24 pupils in the Gull Lake school. The two new pupils are Edna Konchi and Jenn Miller.

Drive Safely Around Schools

Reopening of schools in cities, towns and villages and elsewhere in this province has again drawn attention to the need of motorists using every care when approaching or driving past schools.

Thousands of children are attending school for the first time and therefore do not fully realize the dangers to be found in highway traffic. Motorists should regard it as a primary duty to exercise exceptional care when operating in the neighborhood of schools.

An appeal for safe driving, especially in the vicinity of schools, has been made by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Hand in hand with this appeal for safety goes the movement initiated in some centres of the province to organize school patrols. These have given satisfactory results in other provinces and states and should be encouraged in Alberta.

Children are directed by the patrols in crossing the intersections near the school, thus training the youngsters in the way of using every care at traffic crossings.

Large Exports Seed Potatoes from Canada

Canadian certified seed potatoes are in demand in several countries. In 1936, as soon as the crop was harvested, the outward movement started in Nova Scotia as early as August. By the end of November the crop was practically sold out. In New Brunswick by October 31 heavy shipments had been made, and Prince Edward Island, the province with the largest acreage of certified seed potatoes, where the crop is harvested later than in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, soon followed suit in the steady outward flow.

Export shipments of the 1936 crop amounted to 1,484,980 bushels. Of this amount 1,142,808 bushels were shipped during the fall months of 1936 and 342,181 bushels during the spring months of 1937. In addition, 214,336 bushels were sold in Canada. The total quantity of certified seed potatoes shipped during the season, therefore, was 1,809,325 bushels.

Respecting the 1937 crop of certified seed potatoes, a total of approximately 30,000 acres is now being inspected in the field with a view to certification. This represents a 45 per cent increase in acreage to be inspected as compared with that inspected in 1936. Orders have already been secured in New Brunswick for approximately 300,000 crates of 110 pounds each of certified seed potatoes for shipment to Argentina and Uruguay in October.

MORE HOGS GRADED

Almost three times as many hogs were graded by carcass in Canada during the 36 weeks of 1937, ended Sept. 8, than in the corresponding 36 weeks of 1936. The grand total of hogs graded alive and by carcass in the 1937 period was 2,693,027, compared with 2,267,967 in the 1936 period.

The "Big Interests" in Life Insurance

Are the Policyholders and Beneficiaries

IN Life Insurance, the "Big Interests" are the millions of Canadian policyholders and beneficiaries—men, women and children who share in the protection made possible by individual thrift and foresight.

The concern of those who act on behalf of these policyholders and beneficiaries is to safeguard their interests. Their accumulated savings, amounting to more than two billion dollars, must be invested wisely to obtain the greatest yield consistent with safety. Every promise made in Life Insurance policies must be fulfilled completely and promptly.

Canadian policyholders may feel justly proud of the wise and careful administration of their trust funds. Even in the darkest days of the depression, their companies met every obligation promptly and fully—bringing financial security to thousands of Canadian homes.

There is added satisfaction in the fact that the investment of Life Insurance funds has helped to build Canadian homes, schools and hospitals—and develop agriculture, industries and public utilities. Thus, the whole Dominion benefits from Life Insurance.

In the future, as in the past, Canadian policyholders and beneficiaries must always be the "Big Interests" of Life Insurance.

VERY THICK

Two literary lights, one from Harvard and the other from Yale, were having a jolly little talk when something cropped up which caused the Yale man to say:

"The trouble with you Harvard men is that you are inclined to be a little snobbish."

"That," said the Harvard man, "is unkind and unwarranted. Why, when I rowed on the crew I knew every man in the boat—except three down in the stern!"

MORNINGSIDE.—The Thanksgiving harvest home service, which was held here last Sunday, Oct. 3, was largely attended.

Rev. J. A. Perrie, the pastor, conducted the service. The musical program consisted of solos by Mrs. Ogilvie, Mrs. Clyde Flewelling of Fairview and Mr. Harris of Ponoka. A duet by Valerie Wheeler and Ross Sheppard of Pleasant Hill and a chorus by the C.G.I.T. of Fairview was greatly enjoyed. The pastor gave a short Thanksgiving address. Local Girl Married
In Calgary on Wednesday, Sept' 22

A wedding of interest took place at St. Michael and All Angels' Church in Calgary on Wednesday, Sept. 22, when Miss Patricia Henly-Lewis, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Henly-Lewis, became the bride of Rev. Robert Eagles, L.S.T., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eagles of Dundas, Ont. Rev. H. Morgan performed the ceremony, assisted by Venerable Archdeacon Swanson, D.D.

Specially chosen hymns were sung and the sacrament of Holy Communion was administered. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli and sweet peas.

Entering the church on the arm of her brother, Mr. John Henly-Lewis of Delburne, the bride was lovely in her medieval style wedding gown of silver lace, patterned in calla lilies, arum lilies and orange blossom, coming over white satin and caught at the waist with a court length train. Her veil of bridal net edged with lace was held in place with tiny white roses, and sprays of white heather, sent from Wales.

Mrs. Henly-Lewis wore for her daughter's wedding a smart ensemble in powder blue lace trimmed with gray fur, and a turban in the same shade of blue.

White with touches of turquoise blue was the dainty color motif for the bridal attire.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Henly-Lewis of Delburne, sister-in-law of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Miss Patricia Savage and Miss Betty Morgan of Calgary, and Miss Dorothy Steedman of Red Deer, were dressed alike in white point d'esprit over white satin.

Miss Mary McCormick of Lacombe made a charming little flower girl and was dressed in a fashion similar to the bridesmaids.

Master Keith Newman of Lacombe, as the small train bearer, wore a white satin period costume, trimmed with ruffles of old lace, the color scheme being completed by a turquoise brooch.

Rev. Wm. Ekkins of Edmonton acted as groomsmen.

After staying a few days in Calgary, Rev. and Mrs. Eagles left by motor for Cranbrook, B.C. For her going-away costume, the bride chose a costume in a magenta shade, with black fox cuffs.

The hat was a French model black, finished with a cluster of magenta roses. Her accessories were in black.

Later, Rev. and Mrs. Eagles will take up residence at Golden, B.C., where Mr. Eagles is vicar of St. Paul's Anglican church.

Many cables and telegrams of congratulation were received by the bride and groom.

Because an ancient law says that Americans—the Indians who were on this continent long before the Pilgrim Fathers—can cross the border between Canada and the U.S. in perpetuum, Gi-Ere-Kete, otherwise known as Mrs. Pete Garrow (Above) is suing the United States government, which claps a 60 per cent tax against her products. Mrs. Garrow, who lives on the Regis Reservation in Quebec, weaves baskets and sells them in the U.S.A. The U.S. government, however, taxes them, and for that reason she is suing to have the tax removed.

PATRIOT

For an hour the commanding officer had been lecturing the squad of new recruits about the glories of being a soldier.

Having emphasized their duties as soldiers of the King and country, the officer called to one of the recruits—McGinty—and questioned him.

"Now then, Private McGinty," he said, "I just want to know whether you have been listening. Tell me, why should a man lay down his life for his King and country?"

McGinty scratched his head for a moment. Then his face lit up. "Faith, captain," he cried, "you're right—why should he?"

HER LAST PURCHASE

The wife of a prominent townsman was out for a walk and got caught in a heavy shower.

Entering a near-by shop for shelter, she made several purchases, and happened to remark to the young lady assistant that the shop seemed very quiet for what should be a busy day.

"Yes, that is so," replied the young lady. And looking out of the window, she added, "But what respectable person would venture out on a day like this?"

Several types of plums can be grown on the prairies.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson Sermon will be "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?"

The following is one of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon: "Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath; there is none else" (Deuteronomy 4:39). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is as follows (page 415): "Immortal Mind is the only cause; therefore disease is neither a cause nor an effect. Mind in every case is the eternal God, good. Sin, disease, and death have no foundations in Truth."

Spruceville

(From Our Own Correspondent)

SPRUCEVILLE.—It is our sad duty to report the death of one of our old-timers—Mrs. Albert Keitel. Mrs. Keitel has been an invalid for a long time, but we around here remember what a lot she has done for this district.

She was one of those who helped materially in making Spruceville Hall the community centre that it is.

Whenever help was needed, Mrs. Keitel was always to be relied on to do her share and more, so our thoughts are with the Keitel family, with whom we most sincerely sympathize.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Bruinsma are rejoicing in the birth of a second son. We understand that when he can speak he will answer to the name of Thomas.

Mrs. Heath, Sr., has gone to stay with Mrs. Jones in Lacombe to help her with the English church chicken supper.

Spruceville School pupils, unfortunately, were not able to compete in the School Fair owing to chicken pox.

In the eerie glow cast by the flaming buildings and a smoke pall which covers Shanghai, these two Japanese soldiers, their pistols cocked in their right hands, are pictured as they advanced into a native section of the Oriental metropolis during a Nipponese raid. Their particular task is to remove the menace of snipers concealed in native buildings; their methods, "shoot at sight." No living Chinese is within view as they perform their errand.

DISCRIMINATORY TAXES ON PETROLEUM INDUSTRY

The petroleum industry, along with other industries, has always been willing to support a reasonable and equitable tax program. But when discriminatory taxation reaches the point when the taxes paid annually by a single industry equal the total annual payroll, it is time that effective steps were taken to combat a situation that can only end in economic disaster.

As collectors of the gasoline tax, filling station operators large and small may labor under the delusion the public is paying the tax bill and the vendor himself is not losing any money in the operation. That is not the case. When one-third of the amount the customer pays goes to the government, a good proportion of that one-third would otherwise go into the purchase price of more petroleum products.

No one disputes that governments must levy taxes. But in recent years there has been a tendency either to make it too much or to shift more of the load on the back of industry.

Unfortunately political reasons have sometimes been back of such policies. "Letting George run the government" has opened the door for politics and closed it to statesmanship.

In recognition of many years of valuable service to Canadian Agriculture, the Coronation Medal has been awarded to F. H. Reed, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station at Lacombe. Accompanying the medal, which bears the heads of Their Majesties in relief, was a letter on Buckingham Palace stationery. "By command of His Majesty this medal is awarded to be worn in commemoration of Their Majesties' Coronation, May 12, 1937."

After three years of teaching experience as a member of the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., Mr. Reed was appointed as the first District Agriculturist in Canada, with headquarters at Lindsay, Ont. His enthusiasm and organizing ability so convinced the government of the practical value of this work that in a few years district agriculturists were appointed in many parts of Ontario. Changing to Dominion government employment, Mr. Reed joined the staff of the Dominion Seed Branch, Ottawa. For several years he was in charge of the territory from Fort William to Vancouver, with headquarters in Regina.

Served During Great War
Enlisting in December, 1915, Mr. Reed was for two years in the C.E.F. In 1918 he rejoined the Civil Service but with the Dominion Livestock Branch. In 1919 he went to the Dominion Experimental Farm, Brandon, Man. In September, 1920, he was transferred to the Experimental Station at Lacombe.

Mr. Reed was born and reared on an Ontario "mixed farm" at Georgetown, Ont. A thorough practical training in field crops and with horses, cattle, sheep and swine on his father's farm has been one of the greatest factors in his success in his present position. Added to this he has had the advantage of a liberal education at the University of Toronto and the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph.

SHEET RAISING IS AN OLD INDUSTRY

The sheep industry in Canada dates back almost to the beginning of her agriculture, for the first settlers, as soon as they could, established small flocks of sheep to supply both food and clothing for their families. The records show that the first sheep to come to Canada were brought from France in the middle of the 16th century.

Germany Building Fifty Years Ahead For Motor Traffic

No Hills, Intersections or Speed Limit on New Road

TORONTO—In Germany they are looking from 10 to 50 years ahead in the construction of highways.

Old, winding traffic arteries are being supplemented by a great ribbon of concrete, which is slowly but surely being unrolled across the country in an almost level stretch. This ribbon is broken up into two lanes on one side and two on the other, with a broad stretch of green sward and flower beds between.

Known as the Reichs Auto Bahnen Road, this highway is barred to pedestrians and cyclists, while there are no intersections or patrolling police officers and the speed limit is the limit of your own car.

The thrill of travelling over this new highway was experienced by M. P. Hofstetter, prominent Toronto business man, who has just returned from a two-months' tour of Europe. Mr. Hofstetter, who is a native of Basel, Switzerland, outlined in an interview the remarkable transformation he had found so far as German highways were concerned.

Highways Are Safe

He pointed out that a few thousand miles of this new road had been built and that it extended from the Dutch border as far as Heidelberg. "Construction work," continued Mr. Hofstetter, "is still proceeding. These highways are absolutely safe and there are very few accidents. The average speed of the German car is 40 miles an hour because they are small cars, but you can travel as fast as you wish if your car can 'take it.' I was travelling 85 miles an hour in my Oldsmobile sedan, in which I toured Europe, and believe me, it is the best way to travel in some of these countries."

With a twinkle in his eye, Mr. Hofstetter enlarged upon this point. "You see, they do not bother you so much at the border. They think you are wealthy and of some importance when they see you in a car. And, by the way, speaking about automobile travelling, here's an interesting fact—I covered 5500 miles in France, Switzerland, Germany, Holland and Britain and never had an accident, nor was it necessary to have any minor repairs made. I used very little water and only 2 1/2 quarts of oil."

Reckless Drivers

Mr. Hofstetter disclosed how the German authorities deal with reckless or dangerous drivers. He pointed out that there are bridges which span the new highway at different points, and on each bridge is an observation post. Should a car be observed zig-zagging or driving in a dangerous manner, the official at one post telephones to the observation post farther ahead. By that time the car reaches this post, an officer is waiting. The driver is ordered to stop and, as a rule, is not permitted to continue his trip.

Asked if he had to pay any toll charges, Mr. Hofstetter replied that the only country where he had been called upon to pay a charge was in Holland, where he paid at the rate of sixty cents a day.

The Facts About Banking in Canada

Reproduced from the Fourth Broadcast in a Series by Vernon Knowles for the Chartered Banks of Canada and Delivered Over a Province-Wide Network of Alberta Stations on Tuesday Evening, September 28th, from 8:30 to 8:45, and Wednesday, September 29th, from 12:00 noon to 12:15.

Loans Made to 57,634 Albertans This Year . . . Sixty Per Cent to Individuals . . . How a Bank is Formed . . . Shareholders Face "Double Liability" . . . Banks Regulated by Canadian People Through Parliament . . . Deals With Bank Services . . . 49,000 Shareholders Own Canada's Chartered Banks . . . No Concentration of Power . . . Tells About Alberta's Bank Depositors and Shareholders.

THIS year, between the first day of January and the last day of August, Canada's Chartered Banks have made loans to no fewer than 57,634 Alberta customers. Who got those loans? 20,502 of them went direct to farmers and ranchers. Other individuals obtained 18,050 loans. 1,701 home-owners got Home Improvement Loans — so that Canada's Chartered Banks this year, have extended new loans to 85,253 individuals — farmers, ranchers, home-owners and other private borrowers. Commercial loans numbering 13,926 have been made to other than individuals in the same period; municipalities and school districts also obtained many new loans.

Out of 57,634 new loans made this year in Alberta, more than 60 per cent of them went to individuals. Don't let anyone tell you we've stopped lending in Alberta.

Now, I return to the question, "What is a bank?" As I said in an earlier broadcast: "Above all things a bank is a place where you or your children can deposit money with absolute assurance that any time you demand it you can get it back in full, intact and with interest."

A bank is formed by a group of responsible people who believe that they can offer a service which a community needs and are willing to pay for, at a rate which will yield a reasonable profit. These are the motives of any business.

Those desiring to form the bank name five Provisional Directors, who then must petition the Dominion Parliament for an Act of Incorporation. The Bank Act demands that the Provisional Directors must themselves be subscribers to shares in the bank. The Bank Act is a Dominion law — without such law the business of accepting the people's deposits and making loans would be wholly without safeguard.

After Parliament has acted, the Provisional Directors are authorized to invite public subscriptions for the shares. Before any person buys any share the statute requires that there be placed before him, in large type, Section 125 of the Bank Act, which informs him that if the bank becomes insolvent, the shareholder will be liable to pay once more an amount equal to the par value of his shares. This is what is known as "double liability." Since the Bank Act of Canada was passed the double liability has been slightly modified and, as this central bank under Government control, assumes more and more the right of note issue, the double liability of chartered bank shareholders will be further adjusted.

You will see that the law puts a serious responsibility upon the shareholder and deliberately forces it upon his attention, in order that those who are going to handle other people's money must realize their responsibility to the full. The people are thus safeguarded against fly-by-night promoters.

When Half a Million Dollars worth of stock in the new bank has been subscribed and half of that amount paid up, this $250,000 must be placed in the hands of the Minister of Finance. When the Minister is satisfied that the public interest is safeguarded, he returns the $250,000 to the bank and issues a certificate permitting the bank to open for business. The Bank Act then becomes its charter. Any idea that this bank has to put money into Government Bonds to obtain currency is wholly without foundation.

Canada's Chartered Banks do not enjoy a monopoly of the right to print money. They never did enjoy any such monopoly. You often hear it said that Canada's Chartered Banks alone can "make money" and that we can print our own notes and circulate them in unlimited amounts — such statements are absolutely false. Up to 1934 each Chartered Bank had the right to issue notes — not in unlimited amounts — but only up to the amount of the capital actually paid up. There were two exceptions to this rule—the first was that we were permitted to make a fifteen per cent increase in note issue, for a limited period only, for crop moving purposes. The second exception was that over our paid-up capital we could issue dollar for dollar against gold or Dominion notes, deposited in the central gold reserves. These exceptions are no longer in force.

With the Bank of Canada established, and controlled by the Dominion Government we can now issue our own notes only up to ninety per cent of the amount of our paid-up capital. Every year there is to be a further reduction. The Bank of Canada issues notes and as the note issue right of the Chartered Banks is progressively cut down the Bank of Canada's note issue will take its place. In other words, the right to issue our own notes is being steadily taken from us and vested in the Bank of Canada, which, I would remind you, is the Government's central bank, not a chartered bank.

I pointed out, in an earlier broadcast, that no business is subject to such complete control and Parliamentary scrutiny as are the Chartered Banks. Can you name another business in Canada in which every company's charter automatically expires at one time and can only be renewed after Parliamentary investigation?

Although the Bank Act can be amended at any time by Parliament every ten years bank charters expire and the Act is thrown open for what is known as the "decennial revision" — which is a most sweeping and searching inquiry, conducted by the Banking and Commerce Committee of the House of Commons. Mr. Norman Jaques, M.P., for Wetaskiwin; Mr. J. C. Landerger, M.P. for Calgary East, and Mr. Victor Quetch, M.P. for Acadia, are the Alberta Members of the Banking and Commerce Committee. It is a large Committee with every Province and every political party represented, so you see that the people do not lack in any sense for the most penetrating examination of the business of banking. Who regulates the banks? None other than the Canadian people, through their elected representatives.

Into the Bank Act, by reason of the work of the Committee from year to year, have been built all of the safeguards arising from the lessons of the past.

Now I would like to deal with the services that a bank performs. These are many and varied. The bank accepts and safeguards your deposits and extends the credit based upon them to responsible people.

Alberta folk will easily follow the illustration of bank credit I now going to give you. This is harvest-time and in the fortunate parts of the Province the farmer is starting to haul his grain to the elevator. When he delivers his wagon-load there, he gets a grain ticket.

He takes the ticket into the bank and the bank gives him cash for it.

What does the bank do with the grain ticket then?

At the end of the day the bank lists separately all of the grain tickets issued by each elevator company. It sends them to Calgary or Winnipeg, to be collected from the Head Office of the Elevator Company which issued the tickets.

How does the Elevator Company redeem the tickets? During the movement of a heavy crop, such a company is not likely to have sufficient funds of its own to purchase all of the grain handled from day to day.

So the bank advances the sum required against the security of the grain, until the buyer in Liverpool pays for it. The bank collects from him. The proceeds go to the grain company which pays off the money the bank advanced.

What happens is this:

The farmer gets his cash on delivery of the grain to the elevator without any waiting. And the bank provides credit from that moment on, until the grain is paid for, probably months later.

Let me point out that the "tickets" were anchored to something — in this case they were anchored to the finest form of real wealth — new wealth — grain, newly produced from the soil. You know no ship can be anchored safely unless the anchor is firmly embedded in something.

We extend bank credit to people who can, with some certainty, be expected to repay. We can only lend to responsible people because we ourselves are responsible to the depositors.

The banks provide the machinery for carrying out dozens of widely-varied, day-to-day transactions; simplifying business and facilitating the exchange of goods and services. The bank provides a place for you to leave in safe custody valuable documents or other papers; your title deeds; your life and fire insurance policies; valuables such as jewelry, stocks and bonds. The bank collects your commercial bills, either at home or abroad. It transfers money from one part of the country to another, as you may require; and it takes care of shipment and safeguarding of securities. These are only examples of the services a Chartered Bank performs.

No doubt many of our listeners have been told that banks simply swap cheques. There seems to be an idea that there is never any settlement between banks. Here is another homely illustration: Tom Smith, in Calgary, runs a clothing store and Jim McGregor goes in to buy a suit of clothes. He gives Tom Smith his cheque for, say $27.50. The cheque is drawn on Jim's bank — let's call it Bank A. On the other hand Tom deposits Jim's cheque in Bank B so Tom deposits Jim's cheque in Bank B and immediately gets credit for the face amount.

But then what happens? Does Bank B simply send the cheque to Bank A, and Bank A simply cancel that cheque and destroy it after deducting the $27.50 from Jim's account?

No — what does happen is this — Before Jim McGregor's cheque gets back to Jim's bank it has to go through the Clearing House. The Clearing House is part of a national system under which settlements are effected through the Bank of Canada. Daily each bank gathers together and totals the cheques deposited with it which are drawn upon each of the other banks. Every morning these are taken to the Clearing House. Where it is found that one bank has a balance due to it from any other bank, the difference is settled daily, through the Bank of Canada, by the payment of cash — not chartered bank bills — cash. This ultimate settlement through the Clearing House system is altogether ignored, or is too little understood, by many of those who criticize the Banks.

It is not difficult to understand when reduced to its simplest terms. We point out to you that, if Jim McGregor's cheque was the only cheque issued that day, Jim's Bank, Bank A, would have had to pay to Tom's bank, Bank B, the sum of $27.50 in cash — bills of the Bank of Canada.

Every balance between banks is ultimately settled in cash.

Now who owns the banks? There are more than 49,000 shareholders in Canada's Chartered Banks, more than 500 of them in Alberta. Most of the shareholders are small — the average is less than 30 shares. Many of the shareholders are women to whom bank shares have been willed or Trustees who hold the shares for Estates of persons who have died. Many others are individuals who, after a lifetime of toil have sold their farms, or other holdings, and invested their money in bank shares as a source of income. These are examples to show the kind of people who own Canada's Banks. These are the people who are accused of being a part of the fabled "International Ring." They are mostly Canadians, your fellow-citizens, and most of the business that is done by their banks is Canadian business. Some of you may have been given a word-picture of a small group of men, owning all the banks, sitting around a table and conspiring daily to use all of every-body else's money for their own profit. Let us examine it — There is no concentration of power in the hands of any small group. The shareholders annually elect, of their own free choice, 167 Directors of known and proven business ability. Their work is to safeguard the interests of the shareholders, note-holders and depositors, in co-operation with the salaried executives — every one of whom started out as a laborer in some free choice, 167 Directors own less than four per cent of the shares issued.

Banks each month have to report to the Government sworn particulars of the loans made to Bank Directors and to firms in which they are partners and loans for which they are guarantors. The most recent return shows that these advances are only a 108th part of the total bank loans.

No Director of a bank may vote, nor may he even be present at a meeting of the Board, when loans to himself, or any business concern in which he is a partner or director, are under consideration.

About 40% of Canada's people have savings deposits. Applying the same percentage to the population of Alberta it would appear that roughly 240,000 Albertans are savings depositors. A bank deposit is a loan to the bank. It is a debt owing by the bank. If there is a typhoon in lending are the banks tyrannized by the depositors? When a friend borrows from another is the lender a tyrant? We leave the answer to our listeners.

Parliament in its wisdom, acting upon recommendations of the Banking and Commerce Committee from time to time, has legislated to prevent the banks from doing certain things.

A bank may not lend money on mortgages, for loans must be of short term and quickly realizable. A bank is forbidden to engage in trade. It cannot buy, or lend, against its own shares or those of any other bank.

There are provisions that restrict a bank in lending to any Director. It cannot let its name appear on certain prospectuses. It cannot let its staff represent insurance companies and there are heavy penalties laid down for violation of these and other provisions of the Bank Act.

Canada's Chartered Banks are not your masters; they are not tyrannical; they are your servants — The Canadian People, through their Parliament, have so legislated as to keep them that way.

Just before my time is up, I would like to say that I have before me a poster which an organization in Edmonton is sending out over the Province. It says, "Tax the Banks — it Costs them Nothing."

The poster to which I have referred presumes to quote from the Encyclopaedia Britannica, but I assure you that the extracts are divorced from their context and are so used as to convey a meaning exactly opposite from the meaning intended by the author, Mr. R. G. Hawtrey, an officer of the British Treasury.

You all know that when you pay taxes it costs you nothing. A bank is no different, in that respect, from any of you. Would your own municipality say that when the bank pays its taxes, the municipality gets nothing? However, we do not plan to waste time on anti-banks, but let me say just this: That we showed you last week, that 180 bank branches in Alberta were operated at a loss in 1935, and that new and added taxes had since been imposed.

We showed you the alternative — either pass the added charges on to our customers, or close branches to the point where ends can be made to meet. If it cost us nothing to pay taxes, we would have no such alternative to worry about.
